When a party stops appealing to the reason and conscience of American voters, and appeals chiefly to their appetite, old General Apathy has no trouble getting intelligent recruits for his army.

Gen. Dick has been invited to deliver the oration at the annual banquet of the Joshua B. Giddings club at Warren, and he has accepted. This is the same General who is "too busy" to accept Congressman Lantz's challenge to an evening of joint debate.

"Keep your eye on the full dinner pail, and see to it that the Democrats do not get a chance to empty it," shouts the Cleveland Leader. The workingman who doesn't vote right after reading this trenchant paragraph isn't open to conviction.

Of all the tasks undertaken by Mr. Hanna in this year's campaign, the attempt to convince one half of the American people that the other half are voluntary agents of calamity, ruin and anarchy is proving to be the most difficult to perform.

"Open the mills" is the injunction which appears nightly in black type upon the editorial page of the local Republican organ. It is a safe guess

Rev. W. E. Fetch

..... Will tell you Dr. Tucker fitted him with glasses that have PROVEN A COMFORT all this time.

Dr. G. W. Tucker

that the same hand that penned this inspiration wrote that kindred injunction of "start the shops" which was so familiar to readers of Mr. Dobson's paper under the Administration of Grover Cleveland.

President McKinley's charge that the issue this fall is between "duty and anarchy" implies that any voter who does not support the Administration ticket is an "anarchist." What hypocrisy to join with the world powers in subduing an uprising of disorderly citizens in far-off China, when the President of the United States charges by indirection that practically one half of the citizens of the United States are "anarchists."

"Doughfaces," "copperheads," "mad dog," "anarchists," "repudiators," "traitors," and other intemperate terms that are being employed by Mr. Hanna's orators and newspapers with which to abuse and slander millions of America's independent and intelligent voters may have been all right in years gone by, when the favorite occupation of the stump speaker was to wave the bloody shirt and call his opponents hard names, but in this year of grace they are going to prove to be ineffective as vote-winners. One half of the American people are not yet ready to conclude that the other half are unfit to enjoy and exercise the functions of self government.

Chairman Babcock, of the Republican Congressional Campaign committee, declares that the nomination of Judge Phillips, of Medina, to be an independent candidate for Congress, has "converted the Twentieth Ohio district from an absolutely safe Republican district to a doubtful one." The chairman hopes that Judge Phillips "will recognize his full duty as a Republican at this critical time," and withdraw from the race. The apprehension of Chairman Babcock is in striking contrast with the public declarations of Mr. Beldier, who defeated Judge Phillips for his second term nomination. Mr. Beldier is going up and down the district telling every man he meets that Judge Phillips and his disgruntled crew will not muster a handful of votes on election day, and that it is all folly to treat the independent movement as a serious condition. Chairman Babcock and his nominee should get together.

Postmaster General Smith declares that Mr. McKinley is "a Lincoln, a Washington, and a Grant," and that "he has made one great family of us all." And then the Postmaster General proceeds to shout that if one branch of the great American family, to the number of seven million or more voters, should happen to place men of their choice in the control of the national government, ruin, anarchy and calamity would follow. But the Cleveland Leader and the Central Ohio Methodist Ministers' conference goes the Postmaster General one better by adding "Ruin, Romanism and Idolatry" to the list of terrors implied by a failure to endorse the present Administration. The millions of citizens whose votes would be necessary to elect Mr. Bryan are no less interested than their calamity shouting neighbors in the maintenance of peace, good government and prosperity; they are no less patriotic than those who assume to be the special guardians of the flag and the nation's destiny, and the violent attacks that are being made by Mr. Hanna's orators upon their good citizenship and their integrity will surely react to the benefit of Mr. Bryan.

AKRON'S ADVANCE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

The publication of the census figures of Springfield shows that another change in the order of Ohio cities has been made since the census of 1890.

Ten years ago Springfield was the seventh of Ohio cities, and Akron the eighth. Springfield then had a popu-

INTERESTING IF TRUE.

You Can Try It For Yourself and Prove It!

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and this claim has been proven by actual experiment, which anyone can perform for himself in the following manner: Cut hard boiled egg into very small pieces, as it would be if masticated, place the egg and two or three of the tablets in a bottle or jar containing warm water heated to 98 degrees (the temperature of the body) and keep it at this temperature for three and one-half hours at the end of which time the egg will be as completely digested as it would have been in the healthy stomach of a hungry boy.

The point of this experiment is that what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do to the egg or meat in the bottle, it will do to the egg or meat in the stomach and nothing else will rest and invigorate the stomach so safely and effectually. Even a little child can take Stuart's Tablets with safety and benefit if its digestion is weak and the thousands of cures accomplished by their regular daily use are easily explained when it is understood that they are composed of vegetable essences, aseptic pepsin, diastase and Golden Seal, which mingles with the food and digest it thoroughly, giving the over-worked stomach a chance to recuperate.

Dieting never cures dyspepsia, neither do pills and cathartic medicines, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines.

When enough food is eaten and promptly digested there will be no constipation, nor in fact will there be disease of any kind because good digestion means good health in every organ.

The merit and success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are world wide and they are sold at the moderate price of 50 cents for full sized package in every drug store in the United States and Canada, as well as in Europe.

For the information of those interested a little book will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., giving briefly the symptoms of the various forms of stomach weakness, causes and cure.

lation of 31,895, and Akron 27,601. Now the order is reversed. Akron is the seventh city of the state, with a population of 42,728, and Springfield the eighth, with a population of 38,253. Akron made a gain of 54.81 per cent., and Springfield a gain of 19.93 per cent.

The ten cities having a population of more than 20,000 in 1890, were in the following order: 1, Cincinnati; 2, Cleveland; 3, Columbus; 4, Toledo; 5, Dayton; 6, Youngstown; 7, Springfield; 8, Akron; 9, Canton; 10, Zanesville. Cleveland has changed places with Cincinnati, and stands at the head. Toledo has passed Columbus to third place and Columbus dropped to fourth. Akron has passed Springfield to seventh and left its old number to Springfield. The other cities occupy their former relative positions, Zanesville alone not having yet been heard from.

THREATENED

To Fix Billy Mills.

Strait Alleged to Have Told a Friend

That He Would Have His Revenge.

His Divorced Wife Gives Her Version

Of Shooting Affray of Monday Night—Mills Pleads.

(Special Correspondence.)

Cuyahoga Falls, Sept. 26.—Will Mills has the sympathy of the Falls people. He is not condemned for shooting Christ Strait Monday night. Mills surrendered to the officers and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of shooting with intent to kill. Mayor Russell set his hearing for Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. He was released on his own recognizance.

Strait's version of the affair varies from that of Mrs. Strait and her son, Will Mills.

Last June Mrs. Strait applied for a divorce from her husband, and it was granted six weeks later, at which time her name was restored to Mrs. Anna Douglas. The court ordered Strait to vacate the premises and to remain away. In spite of this he went to the house at intervals and attempted to persuade his divorced wife to take him back. She declined. About a month ago he went to the house again. He attempted to force his way into the residence and was arrested. Mayor Russell fined him $10 and costs, and again cautioned him to remain away. Strait promised to obey.

Mrs. Douglas said to a Democrat reporter that Strait came to the house about 10:30 o'clock Monday night. He asked her to take him back, and after she replied that she could not live with him, he tried to force his way in the house. Finally he had her outside, and it is said, attempted to criminally assault her. She screamed for her son. He came to her rescue and fired two shots at Strait, from a 32 calibre revolver, both of them taking effect.

J. F. Callin, who is employed by Chas. Schoaf, was the first on the scene. Callin said Strait was standing at the rear porch moaning, with Mrs. Douglas holding his arm. Mrs. Douglas said Strait had been drinking.

Everybody respects Will Mills. He is a gentleman and has many friends, who will assist him at all times.

Ed Rhodes, who resides near the A. B. C. power house, said to a Democrat reporter: "I met Christ Strait at Lakeside park when the German Warriors were holding their convention. Strait said to me: 'I am going to stay away from there.' I said to him, Billy Mills told you he would shoot you if you go there again, and he means what he says. He replied that he would fix Billy Mills some time. If I heard Strait make that remark once, I heard it a dozen times."

Beautiful sights will greet you at J. Koch & Co.'s opening tomorrow evening.

The "Uncle Josh Sprucey" company

which comes to the Grand opera house

Wednesday, Sept. 26, while old in title, is the 20th century attraction in every respect. The play has been rewritten and added to. The specialties are all new and catchy. All new scenery is used and many startling mechanical effects are introduced, including

the sensational saw mill scene,

the most realistic piece of stagecraft

ever attempted. Included in the 35

people carried for this production is a splendid orchestra of 12 soloists which

add immensely to the show and a program of high-class and popular music

is one of the features. Two big bands are used in the street parade given at noon.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty

Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered

so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's

Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy,

and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble.

I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale

NIMISILA.

(Special Correspondence.)

Nimisila, Sept. 25.—The remains of

Miss Clara Packer arrived here, her former home, last Friday morning.

She died in Peoria, Ill. where she had been engaged in nursing. The funeral was held from the Lutheran church at 1 o'clock Saturday. The services were conducted by Rev. Jenkins of the Disciple church. She was 21 years of age. The many beautiful flowers

which were sent with the remains told that she was held in high esteem by those with whom she was associated

in her work.

Will Kauffman of Logansport, Ind.,

spent Monday with relatives.

Mrs. Mayer of Youngstown spent

last Tuesday night and Wednesday

with her friend, Mrs. Ella Sisler.
